

BlackJack

INTRODUCTION

The objective of BlackJack is for a player to come as close to 21 without going over, while still having a higher number than the dealer. If the total value of the player's cards is closer to 21 than the dealer, the player wins as much as he wagered.

If the total of the player's cards exceeds 21, he "busts" and loses his wager. If his cards total the same number as the dealer (from 17 to 21), no one wins and the player receives his wager back. This is considered a "push."

Keep in mind that "BlackJack" beats a score of 21 consisting of 3 or more cards. BlackJack is achieved when your first two cards total 21.
